The Worshiping Church: A Hymnal

Every hymnal may be expected to have a reasonable lifetime, during which it meets the needs of congregations, and after which it must be replaced by another book that has been designed to serve the next generation. At certain points in history there has been reason to produce a hymnbook that is both new and revolutionary. The Worshiping Church: A Hymnal has been planned for such a time as this. The last twenty years have witnessed a proliferation of new, significant hymnody in many different styles. The "hymn explosion" has given us hundreds of new hymns that are traditional in form and evangelical in theology, but fresh in their language. Their writers come from the United States, Canada, and Great Britain and include Fred Pratt Green, Margaret Clarkson, Timothy Dudley-Smith, Bryan Jeffery Leech, Brian Wren, Christopher Idle, Carl P. Daw, Jr., and many others. Future generations will no doubt agree that this was the most bountiful outpouring of English-language hymnody in the 20th century! The Worshiping Church is the product of six years' work by a committee of well-known church musicians and educators under the leadership of Dr. Donald P. Hustad. The book contains 700 musical selections, 67 scripture passages, 35 worship acts (calls to worship, litanies, etc.) for congregational participation, as well as complete indexes. The Worshiping Church sets a new standard of beauty, readability and durability. New engravings provide larger and easier to read type than ever before. Graphics include beautiful "divider pages" that help define the types of hymns in each section. Some texts appear as poems which may be either read or sung in worship.
