Leadership and Temporality: Calibrating Human Communities as Actors in Fields of Dynamic Perturbations Armin Klesing

The objective of this book is to introduce a new theory of leadership. Traditionally, leadership is understood as the ability of charismatic personalities to create a following and to achieve significant results against great odds. This study takes a different point of departure. Author Armin Klesing asks two questions: How can the response behavior to events be calibrated through the right persons, and what does it take to actively create a new budget? This leads to the elegant concept of "temporality of leadership," which describes the proper calibration of societies, cultures, states, businesses, armies, and whatever else lends itself to be described as a time-dependent chain process in fields of dynamic perturbations. The author blends philosophy, self-development, history, current affairs, and business building to describe the potential implications of this novel approach. Armin Klesing is a chemical physicist, a musician, a husband and father, a global traveler, and a business leader. He currently lives in a small village between Frankfurt and Düsseldorf, Germany. This is his first book. Publisher's website: <http://sbprabooks.com/ArminKlesing>
